

Washington Opera-House
E. L. KENNEDY, Manager.
One Night and a Matinee,
TODAY, DECEMBER 25th.
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Wednesday, Dec. 27th.

NEXT ATTRACTIONS,
George T. Ulmer, January 3rd and 5th, 1894.
Walker Whitehead, January 8th and 10th, 1894.

Public Ledger
DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE PUBLIC LEDGER CO.,
INCORPORATED.

WILLIAM H. COX, President
WILLIAM H. WADSWORTH, Jr., Vice-President
Secretary and Treasurer
THOMAS A. DAVIN, Editor and Manager.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
WILLIAM H. COX, M. C. COOK, A. M. J. COOK, W. W. WADSWORTH, JR.

OFFICE—Public Ledger Building, No. 19 East Third Street.

SUBSCRIPTIONS—IN ADVANCE.

One Year $3.00
Six Months $1.50
Three Months $0.75

DELIVERED BY CARRIER.
Per Month $0.25
Payable to carrier at end of month.

TO ADVERTISEES.

Advertising rates uniform and reasonable and made known on application at the office.

THE LEDGER... is the largest daily paper printed in Mayville—count the columns and measure their length.
It gives you more reading matter than any other.
It is at the same price as any other Mayville paper—one cent a copy or 25 cents a month, delivered by carrier or sent by mail.
If you are looking for the most for your money, you can get it in THE LEDGER.
Now is the time to subscribe—subscribe—suppose it a month's trial.

Circulation More Than 1,000 Daily.

The Business Way!

The business way to advertise is to take space by the year, take space with your advertisements in making them attractive, and change them at least as often as once a month.

You may think there are seasons when you don't need to advertise.

We have never seen that time.

Use the dull seasons for looking over your stock and running off that which is becoming out of style or unfashionable, and giving gains.

If you have space no more, and you can make it profitable by converting unsaleable goods into money, and reinvesting the money in those things which are salable.

Where is That Banner Now?
Greenwood (Ind.) Review.—During the last campaign the Democrats of this city displayed a banner in their procession bearing this inscription:

YESTERDAY CLEVELAND AND GET
FOR FREE
FRESH WHEAT.

A liberal reward will be paid for that banner at this office, and no questions asked.

And the golden bowl is broken. Attorney General leaves the National Family.

It old Santa Claus starts on his annual trip East of Washington and GROVER has his stockings up, we have grave fears of him getting as far West as Mayville.

In Mr. CLEVELAND's eyes, it was perfectly justifiable for the semi-barbarous Indians to destroy the Constitution under which she held her throne, but it was "un-American" for the intelligent and responsible citizens of Hawaii to refuse to submit to the arbitrary rule of this dissolute woman and her degraded favorites.

The authorities of Waterbury, Conn., commemorated the first anniversary of the election that ushered in "four years more of GROVER," by establishing a system of free soup houses for the unemployed. During the coming winter there will not be as much distress for want of clothing, as the party worn clothing will do duty, but a year later there will be no party worn suits to be brought into use by the class that will be likely to need them, and the grinding of "hard times" will be fully in operation.

"IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?"

Magnificent Uniformed Brass Band and Grand Artistic Orchestra.

THE GRAND REALISTIC MELODRAMA, FIRE PATROL!

HOLIDAY GIFTS,

Cloaks at $5, $8, $12 and $15. These garments have been reduced 33 per cent. All-wool Dress Goods, in black and colored, at 50, 65 and 75 cents per yard.

Ladies', Gentlemen and Children's Handkerchiefs, over 1,000 dozen to select from, in Cambric, Linen and Silk, at 24, 5, 10, 15, 25, 35, 50, 75 cents and $1.

Kid Gloves, in Foster 5-hole, colored and black, at $1.

Colored and black Kids, with large pearl buttons, at $1.25.

A beautiful line of Gent's Scarfs and Ties; regular price 50 cents; our price 25 cents; 25 dozen Ladies' White Linen Aprons, regular 25 cent grade, at 18 cents or three for 50 cents.

100 pieces of Standard Prints, in blue, red and all desirable styles, at 5 cents per yard, and hundreds of other useful and beautiful articles. Don't fail to look through our store.

BROWNING & CO.,

No. 51 West Second Street, MAYSVILLE, KY.

McCLANAHAN & SHEA,

DEALERS IN—

MANTELS, STOVES, GRATES,

Tinware, Tin Roofing, Guttering and Spouting.

JOB WORK OF ALL KINDS Executed in the best manner.

Jewelry
BALLENDER Diamonds
(Silverware)

BEFORE BUYING YOUR

Xmas Presents,

CALL ON
THOS. J. CHENOWETH
DRUGGIST,

Cor. Second and Sutton Streets, MAYSVILLE, KY.

SEASONABLE DRY GOODS, FANCY AND STAPLE

CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS, MATTINGS,

And Housekeeping Goods Generally Always on Hand

AND FOR SALE BY

George Cox & Son.

RESTORED MANHOOD DR. MOTT'S PILLS

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the brain, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, spleen, etc., and for lost manhood, impotency, nocturnal emissions, youthful errors, etc. It is a safe, simple, effective and safe remedy. Write us, $2 order we will send you a guarantee.

For $0.50. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

For Sale by J. C. PECK & CO., MAYSVILLE, KY.

The Presidents message is a sullen and sulky acknowledgement that the American people are still the rulers of the American Republic.

The British Tories, Louisiana Lottery sharks, opium smugglers and would be slave drivers of the Spreckels type will undoubtedly regard Mr. CLEVELAND's message as a great and unanswerable state paper.

The organized iron and steel workers are now making a concerted protest against the Wilson Tariff bill. They justly recognize that measure as a deadly foe. Fight the iniquitous conspiracy!

What have we done to be treated thus? Just think CLEVELAND has given us two messages in less than two months. But that is not all. We are threatened with a third. And yet some people wonder why times are so hard, the weather so changeable etc.

A MANUFACTURER in Louisville recently purchased 14x30 IC bright plates at $4.87 per box, delivered. Before the increased duty was put upon the plates he was purchased for $5.10 per box. The McKinley bill increased the duty $1.20 per hundred pounds, and now the question arises who pays the duty. We have been hearing about the great amount of money which we have had to pay out on account of the advanced duty, but the fact is we are not paying a cent more for these grades of plates than in 1890.

BEST
Pomeroy Coal
8 CENTS

Delivered to any part of the city for cash.
WILLIAM DAVIS.

Traveling in their own Pullman Palace Cars

The young American Comedian,

JOSEPH LEBRANDT,

Supported by his own company of eighteen artists. Regular prices. Seats on sale at Nelson's two days in advance.

It will be mounted elaborately. A record of over 600 nights in principal cities. The original company of Sweet singers in a modern play of most excellent merit. Evening prices. Seats on sale at Nelson's two days in advance.

A SMALL RIOT

Precipitated in the House By
McCreary, of Kentucky,

In Connection With Representatives
Reed and Bouteille.

The latter handled the Administration
and its Defenders in Withering Style,
But Louie The Dandier So Great
That the Mass is Ordered Out.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Thursday afternoon precipitated the most stormy session that the house has witnessed since the gathering in regular session, by introducing a resolution which was practically a preamble to the Hitt resolution.

It recited the fact that the right of congress to declare war was granted by the act of the executive department of the United States sought to restore a deposed monarchy by means of secret instructions given to our minister to conspire with the agents of that monarchy. Within at the same time his publication, and his resolutions, which was practically a preamble to the Hitt resolution.

During the reading of this resolution the speaker was interrupted by a shout of excitement, which burst into an uproar as soon as the reading was finished. The speaker was instantly assailed by the voices of a score of members demanding recognition. Mr. Clegg, of Mississippi, and his associates, rapping with his gavel to restore silence announced that the resolution must go to the committee on naval affairs without debate.

There was the greatest tumult in the aisles, which was only ended when the speaker recognized Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, who entered his formal objection to the present consideration of the resolution, which was finally referred.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Mr. McCreary, in his report, states that the resolution was introduced by the speaker, who, he said, had been in a state of excitement, which burst into an uproar as soon as the reading was finished.

The speaker was instantly assailed by the voices of a score of members demanding recognition. Mr. Clegg, of Mississippi, and his associates, rapping with his gavel to restore silence announced that the resolution must go to the committee on naval affairs without debate.

There was the greatest tumult in the aisles, which was only ended when the speaker recognized Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, who entered his formal objection to the present consideration of the resolution, which was finally referred.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Mr. McCreary, in his report, states that the resolution was introduced by the speaker, who, he said, had been in a state of excitement, which burst into an uproar as soon as the reading was finished.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Mr. McCreary, in his report, states that the resolution was introduced by the speaker, who, he said, had been in a state of excitement, which burst into an uproar as soon as the reading was finished.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary, of Kentucky, was started by Mr. McCreary, who as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, offered a resolution in lieu of those offered some days ago by Messrs. Hitt and Bouteille. Mr. McCreary's resolution was intended as a blow at the Harrison administration. The speaker refused to allow it to be read.

Charles McCreary

